

Create a New Year's learning plan that fits your own needs

The Online Return to Work Coordinator Program

- Allows you to study at the time and place that is most convenient for you
- Enables you to space your modules to fit your schedule
- Provides practical knowledge and skills
- Offers an efficient and enjoyable way to learn
- Involves a variety of instructors with expertise in each topic
- Allows you to communicate and interact with people with similar interests in different locations and types of organizations

Each module has a specific theme related to disability management and return to work, and study activities are carried out over a one-week period. A package of materials including a manual, readings, examples and samples, quizzes and an assignment will be available on the Friday before the module start date. During the week, you'll explore scenarios with topic-related issues in an instructor-led online discussion forum. At the end of the week you'll complete a short assignment.

Topics include: establishing a disability management program • job analysis • the return to work process • assistive devices and technology • insurance and other benefits • disability and diversity • interviewing and helping • problem solving with groups • workers' compensation • information management • DM in unionized organizations • program evaluation • preventing injuries and promoting wellness • managing change • mental health issues • and many others

National Institute of Disability Management and Research

Further details available on the website at: www.nidmar.ca

Schedule: http://www.nidmar.ca/education/education_online/online_module_date.asp

Tel: 250.386.4388

Fax: 250.386.4398

Email: education@nidmar.ca