

March 2009

Dear Certificant:

In September 2008, you received a letter from CCWAVES informing you of the decision to dissolve the organization. The Commission then sought a reputable organization to assume responsibility for the renewal and maintenance of the CVE, CWA and CCAA credentials. CCWAVES is pleased to announce that they have successfully negotiated with the Commission on Rehabilitation Counselor Certification (CRCC) for the transition of the oversight and administration of the future renewal and maintenance processes for the CVE, CWA and CCAA designations.

It is anticipated that CRCC will assume responsibility for operations on April 1, 2009. Shortly thereafter, CVE, CWA, and CCAA certificants will receive more specific correspondence from CRCC.

The Commission believes that the CCWAVES credentials will continue to have value for many practitioners, employers, and consumers, and that the profession of vocational evaluation will continue to endure. CCWAVES believe that they have secured an excellent organization to administer the maintenance of the credential.

On behalf of the entire CCWAVES Commission,

Ronald J. Spitznagel, Chair
